Closed
As anyone who has tackled a renovation project knows, construction doesn’t always go as planned. A problem with one of the final phases of the Swim Center project has created a delay that will postpone its opening until after Labor Day.

We’ll continue to update you on the Swim Center progress, but will wait until we have water in the pool to release revised dates. At that time, we’ll be able to definitively announce a grand opening date and fall lesson schedule.

If you’d like to receive a notification from the City as soon as those dates are set, sign up for “Swim Center Updates” by using the “Notify Me” button on the home page of our website (poway.org).
