Progress on Poway's Mickey Cafagna Community Center is moving forward at a rapid pace. In just about a years' time, buildings were demolished, land was cleared, and the new center began to take shape in Community Park. The project is in budget and on schedule for a May 2021 completion. “Community” is at the heart of the design of the new center. It will be a vibrant new community gathering place with spaces created for education, recreation, and celebration. It will be home to City of Poway recreational classes such as dance, art, cooking, and fitness. The shared-use, multi-generational facility will be a place for all ages, from toddlers to older adults. The community center’s multipurpose rooms feature high ceilings, bright windows, and access to a catering kitchen providing an ideal location for hosting celebrations. Several smaller rooms, courtyards, and an outdoor fireplace will be the perfect places to gather and host community meetings. Soon, the sound of hammers and saws will be replaced with laughter, music, and community gatherings of all kinds. We can’t wait to see you in YOUR new community center. Follow the progress at: poway.org/mccc.

POWAY'S First Peoples
The Kumeyaay people have been part of Poway’s history for thousands of years. Look for new hours and a COVID-safe reopening of operations at the Kumeyaay-Ipai Interpretive Center in early 2021. Opportunities to visit the site may include the following options and important updates and details will be announced in advance. To ensure maximum safety and enjoyment, space and specific dates will be limited for the following offerings.
• Onsite Informative Presentations: Visit our Interpretive Center and learn how the Kumeyaay hunted and gathered everything from clothing, shelter, food, and medicinal needs from the earth.
• Self-Guided Tours: Pick up a tour brochure and experience the historic Kumeyaay site at your own pace. See native plants, a replica village, and grinding sites along the way.
